Prerequisite(s): If you are a permanent student at SLU-Madrid with more than 60 credits, you may qualify to participate in an internship. See <https://www.slu.edu/madrid/services-and-departments/career-services/internship-opportunities-and-requirements.php>
Instructor: Professor Daniel Blanch
Instructor's Email: daniel.blanch@slu.edu
Office: San Ignacio Hall Office 310
Office Hours: Tuesdays and Thursdays, 12:15-13:45, 16.45-17.45 and by appointment

Course Description: The International Studies Internship is designed to help students learn by experience, make connections between their classroom learning and the workplace, and prepare for their careers. Academic credit is awarded in proportion to the number of hours a student-intern completes. A student must work 180 hours to earn 3 credits. A typical schedule for the fall and spring semesters is 12-15 hours per week. A student can earn credit for two 3-credit internships; however, the content of each must be different.

Course Registration: Students must submit all required documents as outlined on the Career Services webpage to the Internship Coordinator (Patrice Burns). Students must then obtain an internship and obtain permission from the Faculty Director (Daniel Blanch) to take the course. Upon completion of all of these steps, students will be enrolled in the course.

Technology Requirements: You will need regular access to a computer with an internet connection. High speed broadband access (LAN, Cable or DSL) is highly recommended for the optimal learning experience.

Communication Norms: Students will contact instructor via email and follow Canvas assignments regularly.

Netiquette: Certain behavioral codes are expected when you communicate with both your peers and your instructors in any learning environment. For online-course discussions and emails, these codes are referred to as netiquette.

AI Policy: The university's goals include fostering students' critical thinking, creativity, reflection and problem solving. Therefore, all students must demonstrate originality in the authorship of their work and properly cite the sources consulted. While proper use of AI may prove to be a valuable teaching tool for both teachers and students, improper use/abuse of AI might be considered plagiarism and penalized as such. You may not use AI tools such as ChatGPT in this course.

In order to develop forms of assessment that will allow students to be assessed in a reliable manner and to provide effective and enhanced support for their learning, Departments/instructors reserve the right to randomly conduct oral exams as a second stage of an assessment for which the first stage is the submission of a written assignment.

Course Objectives and Learning Outcomes:

1. Student Learning Objectives. During their initial phase on the job, students must submit their learning objectives to the Faculty course advisor, addressing their goals for the following areas, on Canvas.

a. Professional: How do you expect this internship to help you pursue your career goals?

b. Civic: What knowledge or skills (e.g. public speaking, writing, financial literacy, cultural competency, leadership) do you hope to obtain through this internship?

c. Scholarly: How do you expect your internship to relate to what you have learned as a student of international studies?

d. Personal: Do you expect the internship to give you a greater sense of personal civic responsibility?

2. Key Questions: Choose 4 questions relating to this internship and answer in detail.

- Some people consider themselves to be “big picture people” and others are “detail oriented”. Which are you? Give an example of a time when you displayed this.
- There is more than one way to solve a problem. Give an example from your recent work experience that would illustrate this.
- Give two examples of things you’ve done in your job that demonstrate your willingness to work hard.
- Tell us about a time when a supervisor criticized your work. Give a specific example.
- Describe the project or situation which best demonstrates your analytical abilities. What was your role?
- Describe a situation where you felt you had not communicated well. How did you correct the situation?
- Describe a time when you were able to effectively communicate a difficult or unpleasant idea to a superior.
- Describe the most significant written document, report or presentation which you had to complete.
- Tell us about a recent successful experience in making a presentation. How did you prepare? What obstacles did you face? How did you handle them?
- Describe a time when you made a suggestion to improve the work in your organization.
- Describe a situation when you demonstrated initiative and took action without waiting for direction. What was the outcome?
- Describe a time when you came up with a creative solution/idea/project/report to a problem in your past work.
- Tell us about some demanding situations in which you managed to remain calm and composed.
- How do you typically deal with conflict? Can you give me an example?
- Tell us about a time when you organized or planned an event that was very successful.

3. Meeting with Faculty Course Advisor. When you are at least halfway done with your internship, you must schedule a meeting with Dr. Blanch to discuss your development in the internship. Consider what you have learned throughout your studies, how that compares to what you have experienced on the job, and how you have implemented the theories and concepts you learned in class.

At the end of the semester, students will submit:

4. Internship Reflection and Portfolio.

1. Students will write a paper that focuses on the international and social role of the organization and their own experiences and analysis. The reflection should respond to the following considerations, among others:

a. Analyze the effectiveness of the institution from both the organization's point of view and based on your own findings.

b. Who is the organization trying to serve and how? What are the organization's standards for effectiveness? Does it live up to those standards?

c. Create your own criteria to assess the organization's effectiveness. Following these criteria, in what specific ways are they successful? What obstacles do they face? Consider individual people, public opinion, local and global institutions, resources and government support.

2. Evaluate the impact of both the service provided by the organization and your own active participation in this field.

a. Analyze how the organization fits into society. Does it seem to encourage the development of values that align with its purpose? Why or why not? How did your work encourage the development of its values, principles or goals? Explain what you and the organization could do to make a bigger impact.

b. Assess your work and development through the internship.

A. Did you meet your own learning objectives by working for the organization? Why or why not? How did you apply the concepts learned in class to your work? What theories did you see in practice in the workplace? How will you apply these lessons learned as you develop in your career?

B. Work Sample. Students must submit a sample of their work. This will vary from student to student, depending on the nature of the internship. Include an explanation of the sample – explain why you created it and the process you followed.
